About

I'm drawn to non-obvious ideas. I've spent 8+ years in product, including building in crypto (since 2018), led the wallet product of Luno to 10M users, then left to found companies from scratch, shipping mobile and web apps, acquiring real paying users. I have been a one-person team and led a 60-person division. Recently moved to the US, looking for a team building something important.
